

S. Khomiachenko, Ye. Yeriashov

Features of the mechanism of administrative and legal regulation of the civil aviation

The article is devoted to research of features of mechanism of administrative and law regulations of civil aviation activity. The vision of author on this type of the branch regulations is also given through the norms of the Air Code of Ukraine.

Position is grounded in relation to that the using of air space by air crafts mainly falls under regulations of such public branch of law as an administrative. Except for that, the mechanism of the administrativ-law regulation of activity of civil aviation is considered as the special category, a basic place in which (mechanism) belongs to the norms of law. The vision of authors on definition of a mechanism of the administrativ- law regulations of activity of civil aviation is also given.

Key words: mechanism of the administrative-law regulation, civil aviation, methods and facilities of the administrative-law regulation.